

The Interviewer

Dr. William C. Baldwin is a historian in the Office of History, Headquarters, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He is a graduate of the College of William and Mary and received his doctorate in military history from the University of Michigan. He began his career in the Corps of Engineers with the Engineer Studies Center, where he wrote a history of the organization, The Engineer Studies Center and Army Analysis: A History of the U.S. Army Engineer Studies Center, 1943–1982. In 1983 he joined the Office of History and taught military history at the U.S. Army Engineer School. In addition to the history of military construction and oral history, he has worked extensively in recent years in the history of Army housing and housing privatization.

Acknowledgments

Appendices C and G reprinted with the permission of The Military Engineer and Appendix H reprinted with the permission of The Waterways Journal Weekly.

Marilyn Hunter, the Office of History's former editor, edited the interview transcript, and EEI Communications did additional editing and prepared the manuscript for publication.

Marilyn Hunter died while this interview was in preparation for publication. She was an excellent editor, a valued colleague, and a cheerful friend. We miss her.